

The Biologique Recherche methodology

Based on forty years of experience, it is based on unique and personalized care protocols based on each individual's Skin Moment®. Suitable for both men and women, Biologique Recherche care always follows three basic phases:

The Evaluation phase

Before your treatment, the Biologique Recherche expert makes a thorough dermo-cosmetic diagnosis to identify the evolution of your Instant de Peau®. This diagnosis, carried out in a tactile and visual way allows to define the most suitable care protocol.

The initialization phase

The care protocol begins with an individualized preparation of your epidermis, the ultimate shield protecting against aggression from the outside world. It responds to a precise and rigorous ritual based on:

- Deep cleansing of your skin with a massage.
- Prepare your skin using the brand's iconic Lotion P50 and put on a mask.

The phase of Care

This phase includes the most highly dosed active products, to allow, by "repackaging" the epidermis, to help it express its power of self-regeneration:

- The application of a cocktail of pure Genuine Serums adapted to your Skin Moment® by the expert Biologique Recherche.
- The care and finishing step allows to fix and optimize the action of the care by the additional addition of active principles vegetal or bio marine, creams and finishing serums adapted to your skin and its needs. Thus repackaged, your skin regains its elasticity, and your face regains its forms and its natural oval.

Biologique Recherche products

Combining authenticity and balance, Biologique Recherche products meet specific criteria :

- Elaboration of formulae with a high asset content
- Selection of natural or biotech fragrance-free ingredients
- Create synergy between your therapist's products and gestures for immediate results
- Use of bio-marine and bio-biotechnological extracts at very high concentrations
